

The weather monitoring system for every application

OMNI-Weather works with the OMNI-Weather Station to monitor and log environmental conditions at your site. This gives you accurate weather information instead of general conditions from a remote (away from your site) location.

Monitoring conditions outside the barn can help you more efficiently control conditions inside the barn. OMNI-Weather allows you to monitor temperature, humidity, wind speed, and wind direction. With the optional Phason Rain Gauge (PRG), you can monitor rainfall intensity and daily rainfall.

The easy-to-read visual display shows you current conditions. OMNI-Weather can even collect and display data from multiple OMNI-Weather Stations. The charts and HTML reports allow you to review and print weather information for any previous period.

When combined with OMNI-Manure, OMNI-Weather becomes a powerful tool in manure-containment and handling management.
